CSR Statement

Campsite De Pekeling wants to operate at the heart of society. We therefore don't just want to think about ourselves, but also devote attention to all people and organisations who have an interest in De Pekeling.

- We provide an active contribution to the development of our field of expertise and the transfer of our knowledge to other people who want to learn our trade. This is why we train people and why we are actively involved with education in the area.
- We enter into transparent agreements with our guests and suppliers about the quality of our services and we safeguard the quality we provide. One of the ways we realise this is through questionnaires.
- We determine the social impact of our services and limit these as much as possible where it concerns any possible negative impact, such as fraudulent actions, intimidation, exploitation and child labour.
- We monitor both the continuity of our organisation, as well as our employees and we will provide the necessary provisions, should we have to deal with any loss of income.
- We voluntarily contribute to social goals through donations and sponsoring, or through voluntary work.
- We continuously work on reducing our company's environmental impact.
- We continuously work on improving our own purchasing process where purchasing (office) materials and services with an environmental and/social quality mark are concerned.
